Dear Public Service Commission,

Duke should quit investing in dirty, old energy like coal and nuclear, and actually invest in the cheaper renewable technologies its executives claim to support. I want the Carolinas to be more energy efficient and powered by local wind & solar that will employ thousands of Carolinians.

Sincerely,

Mojtaba Fayyaz

Dear Public Service Commission,

Duke should quit investing in dirty, old energy like coal and nuclear, and invest in the cheaper renewable technologies its executives claim to support. I want the Carolinas to be more energy efficient and powered by local wind & solar that will employ thousands of Carolinians.

I have respiratory problems that resulted from living within a few blocks of a coal-fired power plant as a child. I don't want others to suffer the same fate. I am a retired Ecologist who started working with climate change modelers over 25 years ago, so I understand that nothing is more important to the future of life on our planet than quickly replacing fossil fuel energy plants. Retired citizens of the Carolinas should not have to bear the burden of increased rates to support new coal-fired power plants.

Sincerely,

Sue Perry
